

|                                                                                   |                                                     |                                              |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|
|  | Troubleshooting Guide:AFG Pro App Does Not Pair |                                              |
| Prepared by:Emilie McWilliams,Kyle Schweitzer, Clint Myers                | Date Prepared:9/17/2020                         | Models Affected:7.0AT-03 (TM765/TM1002C) |

PROBLEM

The AFG Pro app does not pair with the 7.0AT-03 treadmill. The treadmill will pair with other devices, such as an audio device or third party app.

SOLUTION

Update the console to software V3.001 (or current version). The updated software restores compatibility with the app.

Update 10/13/2020: A USB flash drive that is pre-loaded with software V3.001 is available to order from Horizon Fitness—order part number ZMS4010785 and complete steps 3–5 below.

1. Download the latest software version: Go to the Horizon Fitness website. Choose Support and then Software Updates (<https://www.horizonfitness.com/support/software-updates>). Click on the software link to download.

Note: See the installation instructions on the page for complete steps (these instructions are also available in Online Remedy: Software Information > Manual Software Update).

2. Unzip the software file onto the root of a USB.
3. Put the USB into the port on the console.
4. Press Enter when prompted.
5. Wait for the console to reboot and display 3.001.